ASX Group Executive Technology

ASX announces that Mr Jeff Olsson, Group Executive Technology, has decided to leave ASX. Mr Olsson will leave the company in July 2012.

ASX Managing Director and CEO, Mr Elmer Funke Kupper, said Mr Olsson has made a significant contribution to the ASX over the past 15 years.

"Jeff will continue to lead the Technology team over the coming months and will finalise the delivery of the company's new data centre, which will open next month. We wish Jeff well in his future endeavours."

A search process for a new Group Executive Technology will commence this month, with a view to an appointment being made by the middle of the year.
